VOLUNTEER REGULATIONS.

A.O. 151.—Regulations for the Special Service Section of the Volunteer Force.

(Made under Section 2, Sub-section 2, of the Volunteer Act, 1902.)

1. The Special Service Section of the Volunteer Force will be composed of efficient members of Vol who offer to serve, in case of emergency, for the purposes of coast defence, at such places in Great Britain specified in their agreement and whose services are accepted by His Majesty the King.

2. The conditions for service in the Special Service Section will be as follows:—

- They will engage to serve in case of emergency when called upon to do so by the Secretary even though not exceeding one month in the fortress, defences, or coast district, specified in their agreement.
- When called out on special service they will retain the rank which they held in the Volunteer Force.
- They will be medically examined before joining the Special Service Section by the medical officer of the district, and will not be accepted unless they are certified as fit for the duties they will have to perform.
- They may at any time terminate their agreement by giving their commanding officer 3 calendar months' notice in writing; provided that, if, before such notice has expired, they are called out for special service, they will be required to complete their period of special service as defined in (a).
- They may at any time be discharged from the Special Service Section by the authority of the officer commanding, and will thereupon revert to the ordinary conditions of enrolment in the Volunteer Force.

3. An annual grant of 20s. of which 10s. may be paid to the volunteer will be drawn by a corps for members serving in the Special Service Section who is returned as efficient for the current year, in addition to the ordinary grant to which it is entitled for such members.

4. Members will, if called out and employed under their agreement for special service in case of emergency, receive a gratuity of 2s. as soon as possible after reporting themselves for duty.

When on special service they will receive the pay and allowances of the corresponding rank of the Regular Army of the Service to which they belong, including, in the case of non-commissioned officers and men, separation allowance.

In the event of being killed, wounded, or disabled while on special service, they will be entitled to themselves or their families, under the same conditions as if serving under an order calling out the Volunteer Force.

5. Enrolments in the Special Service Section will be carried out by the officer commanding any unit of such units, and the quota which they are invited to furnish, will be communicated to the General Officer Commanding, who will issue the necessary instructions.

6. On joining the Special Service Section each officer and volunteer will be required to sign a declaration in the presence of the officer commanding the volunteer unit to which he belongs. This declaration will be preserved with the Volunteer's Enrolment Form.

7. The General Officer commanding will forward to the War Office at the end of each month a list of volunteers who have joined the Special Service Section during the month; and a quarterly return of officers belonging to the Special Service Section (on Army Form E 652) will also be forwarded by officers of volunteer units concerned, through General Officers Commanding.

A.O. 152.—Musketry.

1. The figure of merit of Volunteer corps will be computed as directed in Section 19, Musketry Regulations, 1901, except that averages and percentages will be calculated to one place of decimals. Paragraph 261 of the Regulations, 1901, and the references to Army Forms E 117 and E 552, are hereby cancelled.

2. The regimental staff may fire in the classification practice, but their performances will not be recorded on the registers.

3. The performances of the permanent staff will be shown separately in all returns, and will not be included in the figure of merit.
